AHRC DOCTORAL TRAINING PARTNERSHIP (DTP)
2017-18 AHRC DTP studentships for current Oxford DPhil students – guidance notes

I AM A CURRENT OXFORD DOCTORAL STUDENT – HOW DO I APPLY?

1. You must read the notes of guidance concerning AHRC DTP studentships.
2. Using this guidance, you must check that:
 - (i) your DPhil course is eligible for AHRC funding.
 - (ii) you meet the academic eligibility criteria.
 - (iii) you meet the residency eligibility criteria.You should also be sure that:
 - (iv) you will have at least two years of standard fee liability remaining from 1 October 2017 (i.e. you will be entering your second year of DPhil study in Michaelmas Term 2017). AHRC studentships cannot be offered for shorter periods than this minimum.
3. You must complete the Application Form for current Oxford DPhil students.
4. You must provide supporting material:
 - (i) Research proposal – describe your research project and the progress made to date. The research proposal should be around 2 sides of A4 in length. For more details, see the notes of guidance concerning AHRC DTP studentships.
 - (ii) An up-to date Curriculum Vitae.
5. You must also facilitate the provision of a reference:
 - (i) You must name your current supervisor/s on your application form.
 - (ii) You must complete sections A, B and C of the Supervisor Reference Form.
 - (iii) You must send the Supervisor Reference Form (with sections A, B and C completed) to your referee/s and ask him/her to complete and submit a reference by the relevant deadline – see section (6.) below.
 - (iv) The reference may be submitted by email to ahrccomp@admin.ox.ac.uk.

6. Deadline

The application form, CV, research proposal, and supervisor reference must be submitted by the January 2017 graduate admissions application deadline relevant to your course. Please consult the appropriate course page of the Graduate Admissions website for the relevant date and time.

8. Where must I send the documentation?

Please send your application form, your CV and your research proposal to:
